I wanted a perfect ending, but the rock isn't always dry, and the sun eventually sets. To me, climbing isn't about reaching the top; it's about taking moments and making the best of them. Thank you to those who have made this climb an experience I had never imagined and will never forget.

Lauren Jacobs

Mom. . . I see you within myself in so many ways. I am so thankful for the sixteen years that I was blessed with your presence. I love you and I live my life everyday with your love in my heart.

Dad. . . you have been there through it all. Thank you so much. I'll always be Daddy's Little Girl. I love you.

Chris. . . we have been through so much together. There have been tears, but don't forget all of the laughs. I couldn't have done it without you. I love you with all of my heart, and that will never change. Always and forever. Whether you see it or not, you are truly an amazing person. You are going to go places, and I hope more than anything that you will be happy. And maybe, just maybe, we will be by each other's sides as we continue down this path called life.

Sam, Robin, Lee, Shula. . . Paul Simon says it best, "No long drawn blown-out excuses remain, when I needed a friend, she was there." Thank you girls.

Kian: Thanks for always being there and for your wonderful hugs.

The Shiffrins and Mannings: I could never thank you enough for your caring, generosity, and friendship.

Mr. Taylor: I will never forget everything that you have taught me. When things start to get rough, just go to Zero and it will be all right.

Bonnie and Mac: You two witnessed a profound change in my life over the course of Junior 4-Point. Thanks for helping through such an amazing experience.

I know that I have missed some people, but that doesn't mean that I have forgotten you. These four years have been hard, but I can honestly say that I would not have wanted to be anywhere else.

"I have need of the sky, I have business with the grass; I will up and get me away where the hawk is wheeling lone and high. I will get me away to the waters that glass, the clouds as they pass, I will get me away to the woods."

Chris Leonards

I'm not sure how much of a legacy I'm leaving here at Gould. Probably no one will even remember my name in two years. I guess when I came here all I thought about was where I would go after I left. Now I really wish I could have done something that everyone remembered. Not something incredible, not some philanthropic act that defines a great person, not something so terrible that people cannot help but remember, just some feeling maybe — that people whisper about when they think of years past. Maybe I just want to come back in ten years and see my name on the wall walking into the library; like Pate Cote. So no legacy, that's alright. Mom, I'm sure you're glad that I never left a legacy for people to remember. You never did like finding out about me climbing on the field house roof. I guess I just like being where I can be away from everything, but still see everything and know that I am a part of it. No Dad, my American Literature course was not as hard as your doctoral English course. You know what though, despite the difficulty of courses, the pressure of competition in sports, or just the everyday grind that we all find ourselves trapped in, you and Mom did the right thing when you allowed me to come here. I know it has been a question that you both ask yourselves constantly. I love you both, and I will never be able to repay you for what you have taught me, and allowed me to teach myself. Whether I learned it at Gould or at home, I attribute everything to your unrestricted willingness to let me follow my dreams. I am so lost when I look into your eyes Lauren. You are like the ocean. Wherever we go, whatever we do, we will always be together. Even if we are not together, you will always be in my heart. I love you so much. Hey guys we certainly did have fun. Keep the good times rolling at the Academy.

Mom and Dad, thanks for everything you do for me and for raising me in a Godly Christian home. Thanks for sacrificing everything it took to let me come to Gould. It has prepared me in more ways than I could have imagined. I love you guys so much, even sometimes when it might not be so obvious. Joshua, you're my older brother, what else can I say? Thanks for all of my daily beatings and punches growing up. I was just acting like they hurt so it would build up your self-esteem. Thanks for helping with all my car problems. I'm sorry I'm so much better than you at everything, I can't help it. Cass, thanks for all the years of great memories. I've had friends that have come and gone even when I thought we were inseparable, but you have always been there for me. I love you and thank you for that. Thanks for putting up with all my car talk; I'm sure it must get tiring sometimes. I love you and I can't wait till the fun times we'll have in college "In a while crocodile" Vader, Sit, Lie down, Roll over, Speak, and drop that poor person's finger! Good dog.

Cassie Mason

Mom & Dad - you guys have given me every advantage to excel and all of the support that anyone could ask for. You're my two best friends and I love you and respect you more than either of you will ever know. Thank you for always trusting me and believing in me, but most of all, for always loving each other. You've taught me everything and now you should know that I'll be all right. I love you more! Therese - One year that changed my life. I love you now as a friend and a sister. Thanks for showing me the ropes and still being there everyday, even though our visits have been a while. We'll see the world together sooner or later. Jessie - There is always going to be more that needs to be said, but for now "lean on me", "dance like no one's watching" and "have fun and go mad". "I'm the Mary and you're the Rhoda"! I love you and I'll always understand-and-and. Ash - "you know what I'd do, I'd point that sh*t straight at the sky and shoot heaven on down for you. Oh well the bars are always open and the time is always right and if God's good word goes unspoken, well the music goes all night". 4th grade doesn't seem that long ago and our memories are still far from over... "I'm going to the bathroom, then I'm gonna change my pants". Jase - Frye's Leap, Braves' games, car shows and races... You have all of my admiration. You'll find your princess someday and I know she'll be well worth your wait. I love you. Shules - If I had only one more day left I'd spend it with you on top of Caribou because that was one of the best days of my life. "Watch out for the dragons", I hear they're pretty hot! Road trips on the mass pike, redlights and u-turns in Falmouth are pretty illegal too. "FUAH" I love you, ya rat! Anth - "Abra-Abra-cadabra" That's really all that needs to be said in a yearbook. Rick - Thank you. You probably taught me more than you ever intended to. And I'll always be the one that's there in the end. Bill - I'll be waiting on my sweatshirt! You know you've always got my vote for president. Idin - You are the guy in Boiler Room. From Bean's English to France to French class by elevator, you've kept it fun and thanks for that. Kate - I wish that you had come 4 years earlier but in that case you wouldn't have been my savior on orientation! Brady - Good luck with that super-duper tape - Thank god U.S Hist. ended when it did! Tricia - Watch out for those idiots flapping their arms on the side of the road!

You liked that one, huh? Heather - The "walking" - "meetings" in the TMS bathrooms - white out. GB will always be better than KD "damn boys"! Learn to relax, it's good for you. "sometimes life can knock you down, just gotta pick your a** up off the ground, probably don't matter anyway, cause in the end it's gonna be ok, because life's a holiday, and tomorrow's another day, and I just wanna play, 'cause I know that we'll be ok, 'cause life's

I am hesitant to believe that I would be half the person I am today without the unconditional love and support of my family.

There are no words to express my love, you mean so much to me!

GA Teachers: If I were asked to name the best aspect of being a student at Gould, I would definitely say "the teachers". Every teacher here impacted me in some way or another, whether it was in or out of the classroom.

Thank you to anyone who has ever reached out to me in any way, shape or form. Whether it was by offering a simple smile or bit of reassurance, sometimes it's those little random acts of kindness that mean the most.

Being in Gould Academy for four years is gonna be the only period that I'm in the country side. I'd rather see more gray color sh** on the streets than green colors. It's time to move on. But I had a Great time to hang around with cool people.

My parents- Thanx 4 supporting me. I alwayz luv u. It's kinda hard to show how much I love you guyz, u know~ Sorry for making lots of troublez in school!!! And I should have called you guyz more. Luv u guyz!!

Jesse E. Dan T. Ben O . Sam O . Jay K. JP, Eric B, Ken M Brad L, and my boyz down in Korea- Thanx guyz!! U guyz are the BEST!! True True. I'll keep in touch with u guyz 4 life, man 4 SHO!! Shizzil my nizzil (Do well wherever you guyz are at. Don't get a trouble)

Mrs. Hughes- You are my second mom up in here. Ken is my Brother. Thanx for everything. What can I say? I MADE IT !! 4 YRS IN GOULD !! HAHA The other teachers in GA- I feel really good about some of them and some of them, I don't !!! I MADE IT !!!

Sam Oyer

What can I say, I made it. I bet most of you didn't think I would. Shows what you know. It's been a long 4 years of high school and I'm finally done. I can't believe it. A wise man once said, "Cherish your youth 'cause it will pass by in a blink of an eye." That man was right. I'm 18 years old and it still hasn't kicked in! I wish I was still 10 years old. It's the perfect age. You understand just enough to know what's going on, but not so much that you lose your sense of invincibility and shelter given by your parents. On the other hand, I can't wait to get away from the girls here and to all the hot girls at college.

Thank you to our parents and family for being so great. In our short time here we've formed some irreplaceable friendships: we will never forget these. Girls – without you all, it couldn't have been done. Kanals you're my prince, a medium twist with sprinkles, tanning, practicing. I will always find you at our shack by the ocean, never forget. Kian I never knew how much one person could mean to me. To those left behind: you might complain now, but in the end, you won't be ready to leave. Enjoy!

$ Show Me The Money $

- First and foremost thanks to Mom & Dad for all of the love and support that you have given me over the years. I appreciate all of the hard work that you put in to flip the bill for this fine institution we call Gould. Big Bro, I truly admire you for your countless accomplishments and desire to succeed. Thanks for all of your help!

- Spence - what can I say? You're my boy and we will be laughing someday soon looking back at all of the great times that we had while we count our cash flow, profited from our multi-billion dollar corps. $

- Dice Man - You taught me so much, how to work "the system." Cable T.V. in the pad, Playstation, kickin' it late night, stealth missions. I'd have to say that you enlightened me the most during my 4 years at good old GA. Thanks professor Will!

- Thanks to all of the teachers that have made my Gould experience so worthwhile- Professor Lewis, Will, Drummond, Monaco, & Cunningham.

- T-dog - Beach bums in Cali.

Mom and Dad, I owe all I am and whatever I become to you and your support. I hope I made you proud and continue to do that for all of my life. I'm indebted to you for life, thank you.

Jeremy, you were my best example of what not to do most of the time. I learned the most from you out of anybody, "Ski like your gettin shot at", thanks.

My sisters :TJ and Shelby, I love you both. Set your sights high, you'll get it.

Ben, Ben + Money = Benni. This country's not gonna know what hit em when we're runnin it. We'll role up, champagne will fall from the sky, the red carpet will roll out, pockets lined with benjamins. Rilla steez like no other.

Danielle, you and I almost always create an explosion. But when it doesn't blow up, it's heaven. I'll miss you forever.

The rest of the boyz and girlz, take care and show em what you're made of.

-Gould wasn't so bad. Someday maybe I'll buy it. And if that day comes I'll make some changes. Driving in day students cars, why not? Dorm students can even have their own cars. Building huge booters so kids can huck themselves, liability my sac. Co-ED dorms, no doubt. Cable, if you can rig it you can have it. I'll change the foreign exchange program to Sweden. The late night assemblies won't suck. And I'll build a glass garage to park my Ferrari.

Thanks mom and dad for putting up with all my sh*t throughout the years. I don't know what I would do without you. I would also like to thank my friends and family who have also supported me throughout the years. Thanks to all my friends that I have made here at Gould: both teachers and students. I would also like to thank my Mountain Bike coach Dave Pecuniss. This goes out to all the teachers at Rockport High who thought that I wouldn't graduate from Gould Academy.

Aaron Hughes

It seems like a million years ago when I first came to Gould as a scared little sophomore. The time at Gould has had its ups and downs, but the people in this community always seemed to help me hold it together. I want to especially thank my Dad for coming to work at Gould and spending his time with me. OTB. I also want to thank my Mom. I don't know where I would be without her love, support, and guidance. I am even luckier because now I have another Mom to look out for me. Thanks for helping me realize my potential. I also want to thank all of my coaches, especially Dave Pecunes. He gave me a life-long appreciation for mountain biking. Thanks also to my friends at Gould. I hope you find happiness wherever life may lead you.

To my parents: Although Gould had to deal with me for only three years, you have to for the rest of my life. Thanks for always being there. I don't think I could ask for better parents. I'm very blessed. I love you and I will meet you guys at the top. To my brothers: You guys are pains. I still love you anyway. I will meet you guys at the top. To my aunts, uncles, cousin: My family is my escape from the real world. Thanks for loving me and not judging me. Peace and love always. To my girls (T.B., M.J., K.L. A.M.): I couldn't ask for better friends. You guys were there when I needed you to be. I never had so much fun just sitting around doing absolutely nothing. I'm sorry, I don't think you guys can get rid of me. Peace and Love. To my Junior Four Point Girls: I don't think I would ask for anything else. You all showed me that when a group of intelligent strong women come together, we are unstoppable. To the Olsons: You guys are definitely my family away from home. Thanks for being there. Kane: I don't think anyone understands our relationship but us. You were definitely my boy and I hope you continue to be, although I still have your shirt. Karl: You better hold it down in the Whittingtons' advisee group.. I'm passing you the baton. Be good. Idin: Although we seem to have differences, I hope we keep in touch. You were definitely one of my boys. Be good to the ladies. They deserve a good Muslim boy. Brady & Hadley: You guys are two of a kind. I'll meet you guys at the top! Marcus & Curtis: Hold it down while I'm gone. I hope you guys stay humble and represent for me. Be good, because y'all know how y'all act. Ms. Pooley: Thanks for being there when the Halls need you! Ms. Phillips: I'm so happy you started with me and now you are finishing with me. Congrats on your marriage. See you at the top. To the Real World Girls: I will never forget the time we spent after lights out. I will continue to remember those times. To everyone else and anyone I missed: This journey was extraordinary. Thanks, Gould, for allowing me to take it to another level that most black girls from sunny south Florida don't get to experience.

First I should thank the rents . . . You guys have made every sacrifice that I could possibly ask for. I will never be able to repay you. Especially not for the four years of tuition at GA!!! Meghan – You have been my guide through life. Hopefully, I will always have that. You are the one person that can set me straight, the only one to be daring enough to kick that girl's booty when she's picking on me, and you always wanted the best out of me. Then those friends . . . Anthony/Tony – We have grown up together. We made it through Masco, Gould, and Spanish 4, so I feel it is safe to say we've experienced it all. I probably will see you this summer and in college, but try not to go to the movie rentals at midnight or, even for that matter, leave your headlights on for too long. The battery does run out!! Spencer H. You always know how to have fun, just try to stay out of trouble. Don't worry everything will work out for you. JUST CHILL! Mallory – I have never met anyone with your personality. Never change. Jan – You gave me all the support I could have asked for. I will make sure to come and visit you again so we can break another golf cart!! Eric T. – I never knew where you got all that energy, but then again I only had to look at your parents. Keep in touch playa! Brady – Go To BED . . . dammit!! Ben – You were a good roomy. By the way . . . ESPN, BAYWATCH, and some PLAYSTATION never hurt anyone! As we sit here and type our senior page, we thought about what exactly to put. Now we could have gone with the traditional thank yous to friends, family, and faculty, but you guys all know that we are thankful for what you have given us. It will not soon be forgotten. We also thought, hmm we could put in secret inside jokes that only a few will get, but you know those inside jokes and we can still laugh about them. We also thought, why we could write about all the stuff we got away with it entirely, well cause we would have just told you. So what are we going to tell you in our "senior page" exactly? Well we are grateful for the lessons we learned here, both good and bad. We had fun during the fun times and were frustrated during the frustrating times. But most importantly what will we take with us into the future from the Academy? Well honestly, neither of us will probably figure that out until 20 years from now. Nevertheless, we do need to thank our parents, for without them, we would be nothing.

Jack: Mom and Pops, you guys have believed in me and supported me all the way. I can never thank you enough for what you have given me. Thank you for always being there and thank you for encouraging me to try my best. I will never forget what you have done and I can never repay you. Thank you. I truly love you.

JP: Mom and Dad, and D- thank you so much for helping me through everything, the good times and the bad. You were always there for me. Thank you and I love you.

Mom and Dad – Thank you for all the opportunities you have provided me with. You have sacrificed so much so I could attend Gould. Thank You! Jodi – You have such a passion for what you believe in . . . don't lose sight of your dreams . . . your hard work will pay off! Thanks for keeping me tough! NEVER forget . . . I am "the Angel" . . . you are "the Princess" Kate – Your friendship cannot be measured by the years we spent at Gould, but by the lifetime of memories we will share. Maybe one day we'll find each other's houses without getting lost The Mannings – Thank you for opening your home to me. Your support, guidance, and friendship hold a special place in my heart. You are truly special people who have inspired me to face my challenges and work through them no matter how "frustrating" it is. Alec – You are such a great kid! You always made me smile! You are the next Harry Potter! Mr. Wight – You are AWESOME! Thank you for your endless patience and support in class and on the ski jump. You DO make the BEST apple pie! Mr. Hughes – you never gave up on me . . . even if you did make me cry. You have opened a door to my life that I never knew was there. Thank you. Ms. COACH OF THE YEAR – you have earned your name! Thank you for all that you have shared with me. Your knowledge, expertise, and support will follow me all through life. Ms. Whit – Thanks for all the time you spent with me to improve my goalie skills. You fine-tuned them for me and I am forever grateful.

Man, so this was high school, best five years of my life. Five years, its gone fast, or at least as fast as five years can really go (yes I was in 8th grade here, one of the original).

Mom & Dad thanks for everything, you've been there for me and it's meant a lot.

Erin whatever you do for high school, have fun with it, and make the most of the four years there.

These five years have given me the knowledge to make some assumptions about life, skiing is better then basketball and baseball requires far more skill than lacrosse. Some of you may be reading this in the overstuffed chairs in the student lounge, ("our legacy lives on") disagreeing with the previous statements. Don't worry you'll come around. I don't know where I'll be in a year, when you're reading this but if everything works out I'll be getting yelled at, so remember you've got it made.

Liberti ~ I told you, that you'd race. Now you have to catch for them - then I'll be impressed. Zeke~ Good luck with skiing; you know if I tried I could beat you. Seriously go fast.

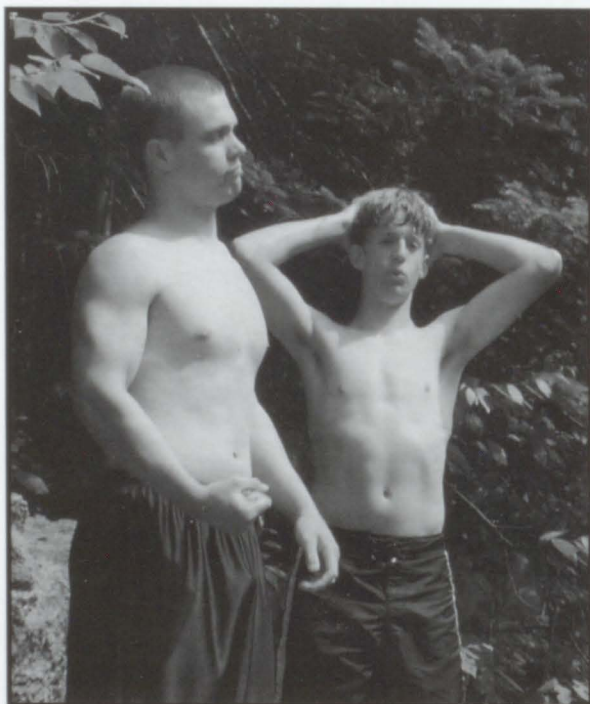

Quinn~ Proctor wow, that's impressive now just make something happen in baseball.

This is a senior quote right so, I guess I leave you with one that impressed me, you might not like it's kind of military, but it applies elsewhere: "If I can't go back with my self-respect, I won't go back at all"

-so this was high school, best five years of my life-

More than my teachers and friends, it was you that made it so good. Mom, Dad, more thanks than I can ever show.

Katie- what would I have done without you to keep me in line, I guess it didn't always work. Maybe I'll be seeing you more than I had planned this year, maybe...

Quinn- it may not be pretty, but try and hold down the fort while we're gone, and when it's tough, remember, our legacy lives on. By the way, how is your sister? Say hi for me.

Thomson- takin' it meat off the straight rack, or wait... Keep in touch

Leo- it was a good five years, I'm just glad we'll never have to live together again.

Billy- the only one that really understands me, and I got a feeling I'm the only one that can understand you. That's how we put up with each other for these five years. Too bad about that Irish curse. And call me sir, please.

Anthony- where ever you are this year, just try not to over think anything. And maybe you can stop by now and then.

To my teachers- who showed me more about my potential than they ever had to, who had the faith to always go beyond the necessity to make sure I understood whatever we were doing, however obnoxious I may have seemed. You have built in me more than knowledge of a subject matter, and I will never be able to repay you for the strength in character you have helped me build.

To my coaches- skiing has been my life. To everyone that has been patient enough to see that I succeeded, it couldn't have been easy, thank you. And to everyone else, you can complain all you want about what they made us do or didn't let us do, and you can try to reform all you want just for the sake of reforming, but try, just for a second, to remember what we did have and maybe you'll be able to appreciate the opportunities we were given.

Keep everything in perspective, right Mr. Davis, and don't stray from what it is you want to do. That's enough wisdom dropped for one high school career.

The Songs

I think of all the songs I've ever heard,
Of those I missed and those that yet may be,
Of all the connotations of each word,
Of nothing, yet, so meaningful to me.
What are these things that haunt my blurring sight?
Illogic logic? Oh, to see unseen!
They find me as I lie awake at night,
Denying me my sleep, perchance to dream.
Let rain increase the flame that burns in me,
The fire that fuels the clouds that are my eyes,
And all the while my mind can't help but see,
But not know what is truth and what are lies.

What world is this that humans call their home?
But still my torments, leaving me alone.

The Promise

The thoughts within my head begin to flow,
To sail around the world and have no home.
To live a life, but never learn to know
What it is like to not be forced to roam.
Sometimes I see the joy etched in a face -
To be so free from all internal strife -
But when I think of me, that's not the case.
Will I find peace in this that we call life?
The flowers you gave me have turned to dust.
All rotten all our memories have grown.
Our age creeps in, we know they go that must.
Still sitting here; your fears are overblown.

Does knowing my designs wake you from sleep?
A promise is a promise that I keep.

Lately I've been moving with the speed of traffic. Haven't quite figured out my direction. Sun is in my eyes, just about half the time. Headed toward which ever way I'm going. Stopped. I'll figure it out when I get there. When I hit an open road I'll gun it. Until then I'll stay here, trying to shake the brain in my head, like a lightbulb, listening to hear the filament tinkling inside. Are you broken? Thank you to everyone I have loved and everyone that has loved me. Mama, you're the most important person in my life, thank you for everything and I'm sorry for all the stress I've caused you over the years, just remember I'll always love you more than anything. Justin, thanks for being my big brother and looking out for me more than I might ask you to sometimes, I love you even if I won't say it out loud. Dad and Mom . . . I owe you far more than I could possibly return in a lifetime. You have taught me that it is the simple things that count and hard work will get you anywhere. To my dearest sister Anahita, I love you more than any one person in the entire world. I would be lost without you. Thanks for every little thing you do and say. I really do listen to you. Champ, it was you who made my last two years possible with the support you provided me. Thanks for the push, the insight, the laughs, the cries, the advice on the women, but most of all, thanks for the couch. I love you man, you're a beautiful guy! To Dad, Mom, and Neg.

Without you three none of this would be possible. I could not ask for anything more than what you all have given me. Thanks for the support and love.

Thank You Dr. Clarke and Mrs. Clarke. You both made Gould feel like home for me. Thank you for your support and advising.

To the girls of the Academy, thanks for making the last three years enjoyable for my eyes.

Shout out to my boys in the BTY, ETF, H.c., PC2k2, DSC, and all other crew affiliations. We keep it real well past high school.

If the world has taught me one thing, it is that life is not fair. And despite what some people believe, Gould is considered a secondary school. This means that it is a business that makes money off of teaching. Now here is part where we tie this whole theme of life not being fair with Gould the business. Since America is a Capitalist country and Gould happens to be a business that is in the US, and the US is part of the world. Then life not being fair applies to Gould. I know it's shocking to believe that inside such a small tight knit community the harsh realities of the world can come true. With this idea in your head stop complaining when things don't work out the way you want them to or the way they should.

I have seen some sh**y things. I know it sucks when the goodie two-shoes can get away with murder and you are left in the dust because of student behavioral profiling. The important thing to remember is all the good times you had when you said, "Damn the man." If the world has taught me that life is not fair then, Gould taught me to "LIE, LIE, LIE, LIE." Don't get me wrong I started lying way before I came here and will continue on. The fact of the matter is I'm still a good person, despite my habit that I built out of a distrust for a hurtful world. The truth hurts, and in a system that is built on perfection there can be no admitted mistakes. So when an innocent child confesses his sins it allows an abusive controlling power to misuse their trust and twisted wicked lies only to be insinuated. I'm not actually sure whether I made my point in that last sentence so here goes. No matter what one does, a negative assumption can always be placed over your head. So would you rather be persecuted for a crime not committed or lie to avoid the mess all together? It sounds like the cheap easy way out, but when life is not fair, why play by the rules?

In my closing argument I would like to say unless you can start teaching the value of fairness, then I don't see why I should play by the rules only to get burned by the system. So for now I will continue to appreciate the life I have and look forward to all the good times that this life has to offer. I urge all who feel suppressed or mistreated to change the system. You have the power, a controlling force uses fear to keep the individual suppressed. The ability of a community to meet the needs of its inhabitants means that it must be more controlling and conformist. Only in conformity and control can the individual be silenced and turn sever the legs that hold the monster up. The unique, gifted, free are the ones who can carry you to a new revolution. Annabelle — It'll be hard to find another roommate like you, wench. Remember story nights, the homicidal pencil, hot flashes, and Harry Potter. "Set your hopes up way too high/ Living's in the way we die."

Sam — Whose Line is it Anyway, watch out! Glad you joined the W club wench!

Chrissy — You were my first friend here. Thanks for opening your ear to listen to my complaints and problems. I've enjoyed my time with you!

Caitlin — What can I say except you're such a bunny!

Charlie — Crepes tonight anyone? Make sure you don't lose Harold again!

Erin and Caroline — Math would just not be the same without you! Thanks for adding comedy to such a dull topic.

Dave — Those weeks at the boat last summer were wonderful, I'll always remember that. Thanks for everything you do for me. I don't think my senior year would have been as good without you. I like you lots and lots and lots. My LM. . . "Il répéta: Amie, qu'est-ce que donc qui vous tourmente? Elle répondit: L'amour de vous."

To anyone forgotten, believe me, you weren't.

"Where it all ends I can't fathom my friends / If I knew, I might toss out my anchor / But I cruise along always searching' for songs / Not a lawyer, a thief, or a banker."

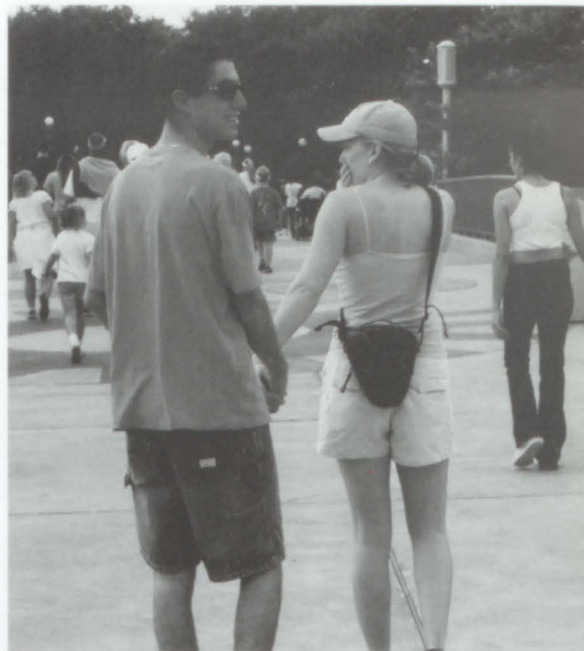

— Jimmy Buffett "Son of a Son of a Sailor"

"Really don't mind if you sit this one out / My words but a whisper, your deafness a shout"

— Jethro Tull "Thick as a Brick"

"And god help you if you are a phoenix / and you dare to rise up from the ash / a thousand eyes will smoulder with jealousy / while you are just flying past."

— Ani D. "32 Flavors"

"Well, we've come a long way, but we ain't there yet. An' maybe it's jus' gonna get tougher from now on. Well, that's fine! We'll jus' get tougher with it!"

—Newsies

These past four years have been, well . . . special. I'm grateful to everyone whom I've ever associated with and like. Heck, I'm even grateful to those of you who I didn't like. What's high school without a few people to secretly despise, anyway? Even though I'm sure most of you have never understood my crazy ways, most of you have also put up with them, and helped to shape who I am as a person. Someday, when I'm famous, I'll remember all of you in my Tony Award acceptance speech.

To Kristen (the Wench) — Chicken whips, Jim the Bootlegger, Annabelle and Kristophina, and Dr. Shaw's will be forever engraved in my memory. You are the bestest. TGFSN!

To Sam — Thanks for putting up with me, because I imagine it hasn't been easy. I'm glad that I've always had you to go to and eat goldfish with. You rock my spock!

To All of the Rest of My Friends — I'm sorry I'm not going to mention you individually, but I just know that if I were to try and remember you all, I would forget someone, and then I would feel terrible. I love you! Don't you go changin' . . .

"There are few things in the world that matter as much as friendship and love. They're both very fragile. We must preserve them. . ."

—John Jakes' North and South

To All of the People Who Never Liked Me — Well, I hope that not too many of you fit into this category. . . but for those of you who do . . . I'm sorry for your loss.

To Tony Vincent — Someday, you'll be super famous, and I can say I was your biggest fan before anyone even knew who you were, and this quote page will prove it. Oh, and you should go back to the spiky blonde look.

And now I'm going to be cool and say random things in Spanish:

¡¡¡Mi lapiz homicida fue a INFIERNO!! ¡Su cochinita es el mas lindo, señorita! ¡Que putada! Si me amas, mi frijolito refrito, traime el termómetro. Amame una última vez antes de que me muero, mi pequeña empanada. Un amigo pequeño es un amigo muy bueno.

And with that, I'm spent. It's been great fun. College ahead, kiddos! Isaiah 40:28-31

"I never knew words could be so confusing," Milo said to Tock as he bent down to scratch the dog's ear.

"Only when you use a lot to say a little," answered Tock.

~With this in mind. . .

* Mom and Dad: "This game is much more serious than I thought. . . I'm certainly glad it's a nice day for a trip."

* L.J.: "I often find," explained the Mathematician, "that the best way to get from one place to another is to erase everything and begin again."

* Evan: "Well, I would like to make another trip," said Milo, jumping to his feet; "but I really don't know when I'll have the time. There's just so much to do right here."

* Anne and Kristen: "Do you know where we are?" asked Milo

"Certainly," he replied, "we're right here on this very spot. Besides, being lost is never a matter of not knowing where you are; it's a matter of not knowing where you aren't — and I don't care at all about where I'm not."

* Erin: "So many things are possible just as long as you don't know they're impossible."

* Everyone Else: "Results are not guaranteed, but if not perfectly satisfied, your wasted time will be refunded."

"I'm the Whether Man, not the Weather Man, for after all it's more important to know whether there will be weather than what the weather will be."

For the past four years I have resided at Gould. For some reason the years went faster than I would have expected, but they flew by. A lot of chill events happened. Freshman year was fun (sure) being kept up by ever aggravating quad mates. Thanks to Adam Stout. My sophomore year changed from sleeping at night to chilling in his room till the early hours. The next year was fun till February. This past year I don't really know now.

Sam + Injae: These four years with you both have been . . . um well let's just say they have been interesting. Oh Sam, keep up the business. Peace.

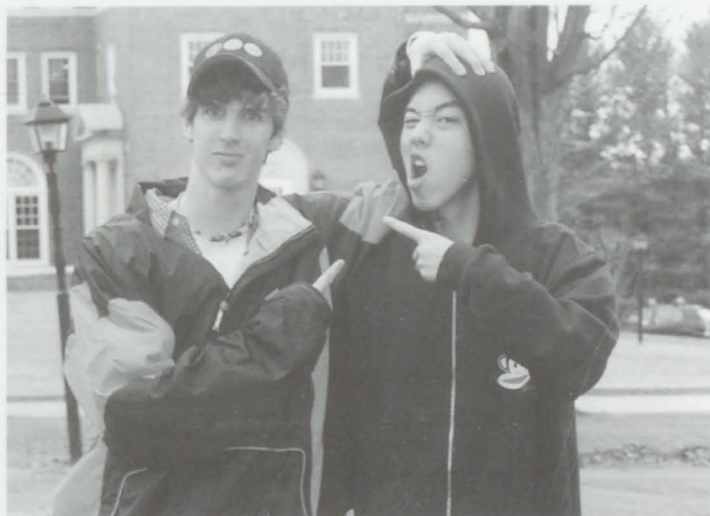

James: Don't ever "pull the trigger" again. Chillin with you has been "SAVAGE"

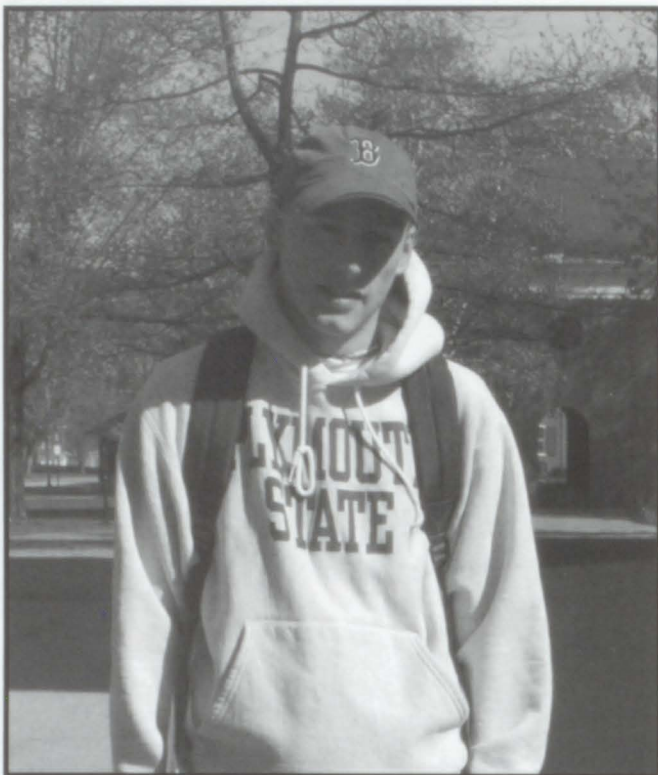

Matt: I'm sorry to say that the Killborn Connection has been closed. Also Matt, "You're all Done" no matter what you do.

Suzi-Q: You're always there to cheer me up in your crazy ways. Thanks

Mom & Dad: Thanks for everything you have done, getting to and past this year. I believe now that it was the right decision for you to stay out in Montana.

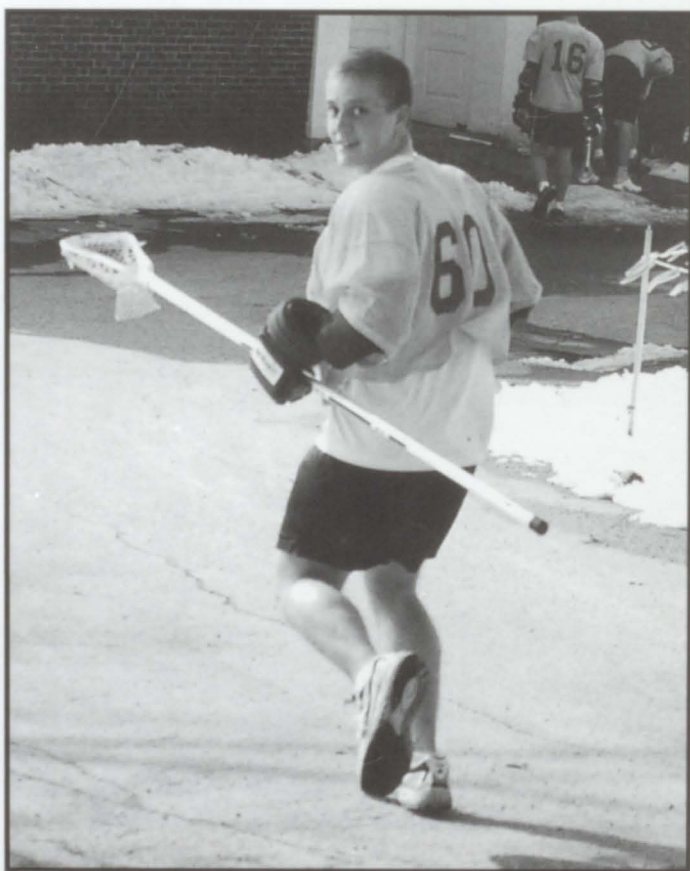

Tucker: You were there when our parents were not. I could not ask for a better brother.
